

PRISM 2.0

The University of Miami Center on Aging is conducting a research study aimed at improving the quality of life of older adults. The study has a duration of 12 months.

You may be eligible to participate if you are:

- 65+ years old
- Speak English or Spanish
- Living in an assisted living facility
- Not currently working or volunteering
- Have not used a computer, a tablet, or the Internet on a regular basis

Eligible participants will receive:

- A tablet computer with Internet access
- One-on-one training sessions on how to use the tablet computer

For more information, please contact your facility coordinator or contact us directly by calling:

305-355-9200